

Detroit Olympic Stadium Pushed In Legislature

LANSING (AP) — More of Gov. George Romney's "top-priority" legislation was on the move in the House today as a remodeled construction safety bill was reported out.

There also were indications at least one of two Olympic stadium bills, to which the administration has attached a "rush" tag, might be on its way from committee.

Both were slated for delivery to the Ways and Means Committee and should return to the floor for a vote sometime next week.

With the controversial federal ADCU bill — another of the top five administration-backed measures — already passed and in the Senate — House Republican leaders continued to prod their committees to get important House-based legislation out ahead of the March 20 deadline.

Some New Wrinkles

The construction safety bill emerged from the Labor Committee with unanimous support and some significant new wrinkles.

Among them is a "point system" under which licensed construction contractors would be rated annually for safety provisions by the state.

"It's an excellent bill, maybe the best ever," said Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, labor committee chairman.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Harold Hungerford, R - Lansing, was originally a duplicate of a Romney-backed bill still in committee in the Senate.

The rating system, added as an amendment in the labor committee, would be handled by a five-member state construction safety commission which the bill also would create.

Licensed contractors would be required to file annual reports with the commission on the total number of man - hours worked by their employees and the total number of injuries costing loss of time in the previous year.

Peninsula Sites Suggested
A resolution clarifying legislation aimed at building a $25 million Olympic stadium in Detroit was introduced in the Senate.

The Senate also received a resolution to investigate possible Upper Peninsula sites for the 1968 winter Olympics.

The first proposal, sponsored chiefly by Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, would quiet critics of the Olympic stadium authority bill which passed the Senate Monday.

Some senators had objected the authority might be allowed to function even if Detroit missed out on the 1968 summer games.

The resolution would allow the authority to acquire land and buildings "upon the happening of certain events...the indication of acceptance by the International

Printers Agree On Settlement Of 91-Day Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of publishers and striking printers agreed today on a new contract, clearing the way for an end to New York's 91-day-old newspaper shutdown.

Key provisions of the pact are an increase in wages over a two-year period, plus a reduction in hours the second year, for a total package of $12.63.

Cost of the strike within the industry has been estimated in excess of $100 million.

There was no indication how soon eight closed newspapers, which before the strike printed 5½ million copies a day, might resume publication.

The agreement is subject to union ratification, but Mayor Robert F. Wagner said he assumed it would be ratified in view of its unanimous endorsement by local and international officers of the International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO, and by the publishers.

Husband Jailed For Plane Theft

PONTIAC (AP) — A 23-year-old unlicensed pilot, captured Thursday after a hide-and-seek aerial chase over heavily-populated Oakland County, was held in jail here today on a charge of stealing an airplane.

Police said Laverne Anderson of nearby Plymouth stole the $65,000 Piper Aztec from the Pontiac Airport with the intention of persuading his estranged wife, Geraldine, 25, to return to him. He was armed with a rifle, police said.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said Anderson told him he purchased the rifle a few days ago, planning to force his wife into the plane, go as far as the plane would fly and "definitely impress my wife how much I was in love with her."

Anderson said he and his wife were married last November but never lived together.

Death Takes Wife Of F. M. Alger Jr.

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr., 56, wife of the former Michigan Secretary of State and United States ambassador to Belgium, died Thursday at her winter home in Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Alger, of suburban Grosse Pointe, was the former Suzanne de Marigny Dewey, daughter of Charles S. Dewey, a Chicago banker who was assistant to the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury and a financial adviser to the Polish government.

Mrs. Alger met her husband in Warsaw where she moved with her family at the age of 19. After her husband was defeated for governor by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in 1952, she accompanied him to Belgium where he served as ambassador for former President Eisenhower.

Upon their return from Europe, the Algeres divided their time between their Grosse Pointe and Palm Beach homes. Services will be Saturday in Palm Beach.

Silence Golden, Many Congress Members Agree

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George Mahon's plea that public officials keep quiet about American intelligence activities was welcomed news to President Kennedy, and many members of Congress agreed "silence is golden."

The President, it was learned today, was immensely pleased when aides showed him news wire accounts of the Texas Democrat's speech Thursday on the House floor. There was good reason to believe Kennedy began making plans to grab the ball Mahon tossed into the air.

White House sources said, however, that the congressman acted on his own initiative, that Kennedy had no foreknowledge of the blistering attack on loose talk.

Moscow Applauds
Mahon, chairman of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said "officials in Moscow, Peking and Havana must applaud our stupidity in announcing publicly facts which they would gladly spend huge sums of money endeavoring to obtain."

He gave no specific examples and said the executive branch and the legislative, Republicans and Democrats alike, "must share the blame" for "making us the laughing stock of the world."

There was an immediate chorus of amens on Capitol Hill.

At the same time, Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., said he had called on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to tell the American people whether Soviet ships recently reported en route to Cuba to remove Soviet troops actually were carrying missiles to the island.

In expressing agreement with Mahon, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said: "I feel that there's too much intelligence given out." And Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., told a reporter: "All should heed the admonition that silence is the golden rule of intelligence."

Stop Tongue-Wagging

On the House side, Mahon's assertion that "the present situation

Tax Cut Backers Hope To Get Bill In Effect Oct. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources predicted today that if Congress trims President Kennedy's tax cut proposal and rejects most of his reforms, Kennedy will come back with a 1964 tax bill stressing reforms.

The shift in strategy would not be too painful for Kennedy, it was hinted, because an initial, simple, one-shot tax reduction is basically what Kennedy had in mind last year when he first called for "an across the board, top to bottom cut."

The economic impact would be greater than that of the three-year stretchout of rate reduction Kennedy finally chose to ask, informants said, and from that standpoint has been preferred by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The administration now is reported to be hoping that an acceptable bill—even if it differs considerably from Kennedy's program—can be enacted in time to take effect October 1.

"If we hadn't had the deficit problem, we would have recommended a one-shot reduction of around $6 billion or $7 billion, leaving reform until a later date," one official disclosed.

Faced with an unexpectedly large budget deficit when the time came to send his fiscal program to Congress, Kennedy chose to ask rate reductions about twice as deep—more than $13 billion—with their budget impact offset in part by reforms and a spread-out in effective dates.

The $3-billion worth of revenue-raising reforms was expected to assure the support of the No. 1 tax man in Congress, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark. chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and to placate the secretary of the Treasury, Douglas Dillon.

In the end, Kennedy's tax message became a mixture to suit the tastes of the economists, the economists, the tax purists and the tax cutters.

Red China Plans To Absorb Macao And Hong Kong

TOKYO (AP)—Red China said today it will not use force to take the colonies of Hong Kong and Macao but will get them by peaceful negotiations when "conditions are ripe." It rapped Soviet Premier Khrushchev for raising the issue.

The Peking People's Daily said Red China still is determined to "liberate" Formosa, but is banking on the U.S.-Chinese ambassadorial talks in Warsaw, Poland, to effect withdrawal of U.S. troops from the Nationalist-held island.

Democrats Call For More Speed On Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats called for faster action on President Kennedy's tax cut bill and his various economic proposals today in the wake of a jump in the national jobless rate to 6.1 per cent.

The new figure, reflecting February employment figures, was announced Thursday by the Labor Department. It was the highest seasonally adjusted rate in 14 months and compared with 5.8 per cent in January.

Republicans interpreted the announcement as vindication of their argument that Kennedy has not met the test he set in the 1960 campaign — to get the country moving again.

A key figure in the fight over the tax bill who asked not to be identified told a reporter that if the unemployment rate stayed above 6 per cent when the March figures are announced in April, he was certain that House Ways and Means Committee would approve tax reduction. That group now is in the midst of lengthy public hearings on the bill. House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said the increased unemployment rate "clearly demonstrates the necessity in the Congress to act promptly on the President's recommendations for legislation to strengthen our economy and provide more jobs."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., a member of the tax-writing Finance Committee, said "we need to increase demand and consequently production and employment by a tax cut and we need some additional public works in areas of high unemployment."

Democrats said the jobs decline also should build support in Congress for quick passage of the $500 million in emergency public works funds still not voted out of $900 million authorized last year. However, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said "if this is an example of progress on the New Frontier, we'd better try another road."

Voodoo Dictator Of Haiti Doomed?

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — An explosion is building up under Haitian President Francois Duvalier, voodooistic dictator of this land of grinding poverty. If anti-Communist Haitians don't bring him down, diplomats believe the Communists eventually will take over.

Outwardly, the bespectacled Duvalier, 58, a medical doctor, appears to rule firmly in defiance of his enemies and the United States' official disapproval of his government.

But under the tense calm of graveyard peace visitors feel the pulse of growing discontent that threatens to make Haiti, only 50 miles across the Windward Passage from Fidel Castro's Cuba, the next storm center of the Caribbean.

Some residents say Duvalier may fall within a few months. They talk of May 15-22 as a crucial week. His first presidential term expires May 15 under the constitution. His opponents don't recognize a rigged election in 1961 that extended his time in office until 1967.

Leaflets of the underground National Democratic Union, declare its aim is to overthrow Duvalier in 1963. Foreign observers have not succeeded in tracing UDN's ramifications, but they suspect it is organized and financed by Haitian exiles.

Dread of Duvalier's "boogymen," his private militia, makes Haitians fearful of talking. These armed partisans are called "Tonton Macoutes," after the bogeyman of Haitian folklore who is supposed to go about the countryside at night putting bad children in a sack on his back.

Danger Ended In Flood Belt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surging waters receded in most rivers and streams in the nation's flood belt from Indiana into the Southeast today and the danger of new major flooding appeared ended temporarily.

But there were some critical spots in the flood zones and ice jamming remained a serious threat in some areas.

Five counties in West Virginia, hit hard by overflows from the Ohio River and its tributaries earlier this week have been designated as disaster areas by the Small Business Administration in Washington. The counties are Brooke, Hancock, Marshall, Ohio and Wetzel, which will be eligible for federal loans for repairs to property caused by the damaging floods.

Norwich, Conn., also was declared a disaster area in the wake of damaging flood waters which swept into the city of 40,000 Wednesday night after a dam, weakened by heavy rains, broke. The tons of water wrecked a manufacturing plant, killing five persons. One woman drowned in the flood waters and six persons were hospitalized. Damage was estimated at between $2 million and $3 million.

Norwich Mops Up Mud; Flood Loss Near 3 Million

NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—Most of the mud had been cleaned away today in the downtown section of this city of 40,000 but an estimated $2 to $3 million worth of damage remained from the Wednesday night flash flood that cut a narrow swath over a three-mile route.

Federal and state officials scheduled conferences with city officials today to receive their requests for aid. The Small Business Administration has declared Norwich, in southeastern Connecticut, a disaster area.

Gov. John N. Dempsey canceled appointments Thursday and made an inspection trip. He promised all possible help from the state.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a native of Norwich, flew here from Washington Thursday night. He said he would stay "as long as I can be of any help."

Forces Of U.S. In Germany Get Pershing Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to start sending the new 400-mile range Pershing bombardment missile to Europe about midyear. It will give U.S. Army troops in Germany a longer nuclear reach.

This was indicated by informed sources today after the Pentagon announced the first Army battalion of 75-mile-range Sergeant missiles is due in Europe this month, with other battalions following over the next several months.

The solid fuel Pershing, like the Sergeant, will replace obsolescent liquid fuel battlefield missiles which take hours to prepare for firing. Both the Pershing and the Sergeant can be launched in minutes.

Rebels Backed By Iraq And Nasser Regime

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Pro-Nasser army officers launched a revolution in Syria today and claimed control of the country. But Turkish officials in Ankara received reports of violent street fighting in Damascus.

Western diplomats in Cairo had reports from Damascus that no resistance to the coup had developed in the capital by mid-morning and street demonstrations in support of the army were taking place.

The rebels, broadcasting on Damascus Radio, pledged themselves to forge Arab unity "in the shortest possible time." They condemned Syria's withdrawal without saying they wanted to rejoin the U.A.R.

Americans Safe
The U.S. Embassy in Cairo reported communications from Damascus indicated all Americans there were safe and were not affected by the coup.

Baghdad Radio said the Syrian rebels messaged Iraq that "we are in control" and "there is no need for any action on your part." The rebels said their situation was excellent.

The Turkish foreign ministry said top leaders of the Syrian government, including Premier Khaled El Azem, had taken refuge in the Turkish Embassy in Damascus.

The pro-Nasser revolutionary regime in neighboring Iraq and Nasser's United Arab Republic quickly voiced all-out support for the Syrian revolutionists and warned against foreign intervention.

The warnings appeared directed at Israel and pro-Western Jordan.

Israel On Alert
The Israeli army, facing the largest concentration of Syria's army on Israel's northeast frontier, was reported on the alert. But no special emergency measures were announced in Jerusalem.

Reports to Cairo said the rebels held the army headquarters in Damascus and were believed to have arrested the armed forces commander, Gen. Abdel Karim Zahradim.

It was Syria's third military coup in 18 months.

Playing the same martial music that heralded the Iraqi revolt one month ago today, Damascus Radio trumpeted a call for "unity, freedom and socialism."

The same slogan became the cry of the army uprising that overthrew strongman Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad Feb. 8.

Communications Cut Off
There was no quick way of telling whether the rebels were winning or losing inside Syria. They held Damascus and Aleppo radios and broadcast their communiques. But land, sea and air communications and telephone lines with Syria were shut off, and Damascus Radio ordered a curfew until further notice.

One communique broadcast from Damascus ordered all military commanders "not to carry out any order unless issued by the National Council of the Revolutionary Command." It threatened to deal severely with violations.

At 10:30 a.m., Damascus radio went off the air, indicating either a mechanical breakdown or a struggle for the upper hand in Damascus.

Before the shutdown, numerous cables from Syrian officers announcing support of the revolt were broadcast. There were no such messages from many of the country's strongest military garrisons—in Aleppo, Homs or Katana. Katana, probably the Syrian army's major base, is located near the Israeli border.

Neutrality Pledged

The rebels' early broadcasts gave the name of only one of their leaders, Col. Abdullah Jabrini, who was named acting commander of internal security forces, perhaps the key job in the country. Jabrini is known as a Nasser supporter. He was associated with Lt. Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, feared chief of Syrian intelligence before the 1958 union with Egypt and later Nasser's proconsul in Damascus.

The rebels gave the usual pledge to respect all of Syria's international agreements and to support the United Nations charter. They also espoused a policy of "positive neutrality."

The revolution's first communi-

Porcupine Park Wilderness Land Is Rated Error

By JEAN WORTH

One of the fathers of Porcupine Mountains State Park in the western Upper Peninsula believes that its present part wilderness status is a mistake.

He is Bruce Buell, dean of Upper Peninsula professional foresters, who recently retired as chief forester of Marathon Division of American Can Co. The Buells, who live in Green Bay, Wis., will make their retirement home at Chassell in the Upper Peninsula that they both like so much.

He was graduated as a forester in 1918 and has had a distinguished career in the profession for 44 years. In his first decade he served widely and in 1930 he went to Amasa to manage Marathon timberlands; so he has been a pioneer in modern management of Upper Peninsula commercial forest.

This has not narrowed Buell's views to an industrial bias. He is friendly toward parks, and as he says, helped the state get the forest land for Porcupine Mountains State Park. "I testified for it," he said. It meant putting 58,000 acres of private commercial forest land into public domain.

"I cruised a section of old growth hemlock in the park in 1948," said Buell. "It was owned by Connor Land & Lumber Co. of Laona, Wis. They've had a blowdown in that timber and it's ruined for recreation for 30 years."

Complaint Dropped Against Bus Driver

The complaint against Ray A. Hoes of Bark River, school bus driver for the Bark River-Harris School District, charged with failing to yield the right-of-way for an emergency vehicle, has been withdrawn, according to State Police.

Hoes was ticketed by police on Feb. 26 for an incident which occurred two days earlier. The complaint was signed by Fire Chief Herman Palmgren, who charged that while enroute to answer a fire call he came upon the schoolbus driven by Hoes and the driver would not yield the right-of-way. The fire truck followed the schoolbus for about a half-mile before it was able to pass.

Palmgren withdrew his complaint against Hoes under urging of the Bark River Township Board.

Now it's all brush and windfalls and very hard to travel.

"The park could serve more people and better if it were all put under forest management. Then a light cut could be made of the old, overripe hazard trees and the young and thrifty trees could be kept coming."

"Our managed forests are better for recreation than the parks. The park forest could be put under a 12 year rotation and four years after a cutting the visitor wouldn't know that it had been cut."

Part of the Porcupine Mountains Park is in wilderness status to remain natural. This policy lets a forest grow up, die and fall down. Nature will renew it, but in her own slow way, said Buell, while management can keep a forest stand healthy, attractive and in condition to provide maximum wildlife and recreation.

VFW Citizenship Awards Presented To Two Students

STEPHENSON The VFW Citizenship Awards for 1963 to two Stephenson High School seniors by the Mid-County VFW Post will go to Miss Melody Sue Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corey, Stephenson; and to Robert E. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Peterson, Stephenson.

Birth Rate Takes Drop During 1962

WASHINGTON (AP)—Preliminary figures indicate that fewer babies were born in this country in 1962 than in any year since about 1956, the Public Health Service reported Thursday.

The service added that the birth rate of 22.4 per 1,000 population was back at the level existing before an upsurge of births began in 1946.

An estimated 4,167,000 live births were registered last year, down 2.7 per cent from 4,282,000 in 1961.

The service pointed out that even though the number of births decreased in 1962, the excess of births over deaths added about 2.4 million to the national population—an increase of 1.4 per cent.

Herring And Beer Create A Business

Elcide Apfel of Rte. 2, Woodstock, Ill., got into the fish business by the back door.

A husky in the trucking business, Apfel stopped for a beer once in a while on his trips into the Upper Peninsula hauling cedar posts and other commodities and he liked to tear a herring while drinking a stein.

This led him to the purchase of more than one smoked fish so he'd have one to eat with his beer in Illinois and he's an expansive fellow and distributed the fish freely and the first thing he knew the bartenders were asking him to bring them a box of smoked fish on his next trip north.

That launched him on a little sideline of his trucking that grew into a considerable business as bars learned that they could get fine smoked Green Bay chubs from Apfel. On a recent trip he had 700 pounds of smelt and 80 boxes of smoked fish for Illinois customers.

Apfel buys walleyes, smelt and other lake fish at Cedar River, buys pickled fish at Pensaukee, Wis., smoked fish at Oconto, Wis., and seafood at Green Bay.

Vic Beresford, East Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Association of Nurserymen, will present a report, followed by a talk by Joseph Cox, East Lansing, extension specialist in landscape architecture. Cox will address the group on "Landscape Techniques and their special applications to Upper Peninsula Conditions."

Officers of the association besides Corryell are Leonard Walters of Manistique, vice president, and Herman Berg, Iron Mountain, secretary-treasurer.

The directors are Roland Peterson and Thomas McMeekan of Escanaba, Richard Lucke of Daggett, Max Muelle of Marquette and Thomas Tunney of Iron Mountain.

Deaths Sadden Ole Opry Group

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The entertainers of the Grand Ole Opry are a saddened group today. Accidents have killed five members of the noted country music troupe that is as close-knit as a farm family.

Jack Anglin, 46, an 11-year veteran of the Opry, was killed Thursday when his car left a road on a curve near here and hit a tree. He apparently was en route to prayer services for Patsy Cline.

Miss Cline died in a plane crash Tuesday night, as did two other singers—Hawkshaw Hawkins and Cowboy Copas—and Miss Cline's manager-pilot, Randy Hughes.

"It is almost impossible to realize so many of our people could be so unfortunate in such a brief period of time," said Ott Devine, program manager of the Opry and its voice—Nashville radio station WSM.

The radio station, which started the Opry, made an abrupt change in its format after the light plane plunged into a hillside 85 miles west of here.

Commercially were canceled and requests rejected. The station played nothing but hymns and songs recorded by Miss Cline, Hawkins and Copas.

Thursday night the station added songs Anglin recorded as a member of the team "Johnny and Jack." The other half of the team is Johnny Wright, a member of their company is Wright's wife—singer Kitty Wells.

Saturday night there will be a brief moment of silence on the Opry. Devine will read a tribute to the dead stars and a quartet will sing a hymn. Then, officials say, the Grand Ole Opry will proceed as it has every Saturday night for 38 years.

Area Considered In Senate Setup

By League of Women Voters
The new constitution keeps the term of office of the House at two years, but that of the Senate is increased to four beginning in 1966. Senators will be elected at the same time as the governor from single member districts. The number of senators is increased from the present 34 to 38.

The present Senate districts, which reflect both population and area, were frozen into the constitution in 1952 and have no rational basis other than history. The new constitution provides a logical way of considering both area and population and of weighing population four times as heavily as area.

The percentage of the state's population in each county is multiplied by four and to this is added the percentage of the state's land area in that county. The result is the number of apportionment factors" possessed by that county. A county must have 13 or more factors to get its own senator. There are now five such counties: Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Genesee, and Kent.

These five big counties comprise one "class" of county, and the smaller counties comprise another "class." The total number of apportionment factors possessed by each class of counties will be figured. Then that class will be given the per cent of the total 38 senators to which its per cent of the total apportionment factors for the whole state entitle it.

For example, the big counties now have 47 per cent of the total number of apportionment factors and will receive, as a class, 47 per cent (18) of the senators. The smaller counties will then be grouped into districts "compact, convenient, and contiguous by land" and as nearly equal as possible in population. The 18 senators will be allocated among the big counties on the equal proportions formula.

The advantage of this system is that big counties will be competing among themselves for senators, and small counties among themselves. There will be no competition of big against little counties.

There are several reasons for considering area in the senate apportionment. One is that in a two-house legislature, the two houses should be on different bases to act as a check and balance on each other.

Another is to keep senatorial districts in the upper part of the state to a manageable size. The Upper Peninsula is over 300 miles long. Very large districts would make running for senator a very difficult and expensive job. Also, a citizen who has to depend on a senator living 200 miles from him, might with reason wonder whether the views of his part of the state were being adequately represented in the senate.

Michigan will vote on acceptance of the new constitution on Monday, April 1.

City Employees Ask Pay Hike; Council Against Tax Boost

"Hard times come a'knocking" at the old Escanaba City Hall door and on the basis of present revenues there will not be sufficient funds to grant city employees the pay raises they are requesting.

The City Council made this clear in a discussion with representatives of the employees last night, and supported City Manager George Harvey in his planning (as directed by the Council) to submit a budget that calls for no increase in city taxes and utility rates.

The city's financial squeeze is the result, in part at least, of an expected reduction in Escanaba's assessed valuation. This is the first time within the memory of any Councilman that Escanaba had failed to gain in assessed valuation.

Loss In Tax Base
Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe said there "has been considerable property taken off the tax roll in the past year," and that the "city's financial picture is changing for the worse, not the better."

One of the major losses in valuation to the city will be the Delta Hotel and adjacent property, acquired by the Bishop of the Diocese of Marquette. The property will be used as a home for Catholic senior citizens and is expected to be tax exempt as a religious and charitable enterprise. Final determination on the tax situation of the property will be made by the Michigan attorney general, the mayor said.

The Escanaba board of review, composed of Mayor Vanlerberghe, Supervisors Wheaton Strom, Harold C. Hayes and L. J. Jacobs and City Assessor Charles Schmidt, has begun review of the assessment rolls for the coming year. Because the work of the review board is not completed, there is as yet no determination on what the city's tax base and revenues will be, said the mayor.

Ask 9% Boost

The salary requests of the city employees were previously presented to the Council through City Manager Harvey. He met with the employees and representatives and, at the direction of the City Council, advised the employees that the city's financial condition would not permit a salary raise this year.

Appearing before the Council last night on behalf of the employees were James Conway, representing the city electricians; Eugene Merrill, secretary-treasurer of the Fire Fighters Local; and Marlin Williams, representing the Municipal Employees, largest city employee group.

The original salary requests were: Electricians, 9 per cent increase; firemen, 5 per cent plus more fringe benefits; city employees, 10 per cent (later cut to 9 per cent) plus more fringe benefits.

On behalf of the electricians Conway said there is need of a pay raise to meet rising cost of living and that pay raises in the past were insufficient. He said the U. P. Power Co. now pays linemen $2.94 an hour and that the City of Escanaba rate is $2.70.

Face Deficit Budget

Merrill urged the Council not to close the door to negotiations on the requested pay boosts and said that he believes that if the public was "fully informed" it would support the employees in their bid for higher wages and a tax increase to pay for it. There are about 160 permanent or civil service employees and about 40 seasonal workers employed by the city.

In discussions on the subject it was reported by spokesmen for the employees and by Councilmen and administrative officers that city employees got a raise of 5 cents an hour last year, the same the year before, and that over the past 10 years the raises to the employees have totaled 43 per cent.

"I would say it was approximately 40 per cent and it (the increases) has been falling off the last few years," Williams said.

Mayor Vanlerberghe said that "without a question of a doubt we are in a deficit budget" and that on the board of review there are "hardship cases coming to us and we are told the people demand that there be no increases in taxes."

The city has a serious financial problem this year and the budget is still under study, he said. The mayor complimented the employees for their conscientious service.

Under Advisement

City Manager Harvey pointed out that he is preparing a budget based on the present city tax rate of $12.5 per $1,000 assessed valuation, as requested by the City Council. The utility rates would also be unchanged.

The city charter requires that to raise the city tax rate above 12.5 mills it is necessary to specify the purpose for which the money is being raised. The charter permits the tax rate to go as high as 18 mills without a vote of the people.

City Councilman Wesley Hansen directed attention to the fact that the $12.5 rate at present produces only about one-third of the city's revenues. The remainder comes from city utilities and other sources.

The discussion came to a close on a note of understanding that further meetings would be held between the manager and the union representatives, and that the Council will in its struggle with the budget keep the pay requests of the employees in mind.

"There are many questions yet to be answered and much hard study ahead," said the mayor. He did not entirely rule out that the study would include consideration of a tax boost to provide revenues for pay raises and services.

First acquisition of Holy Name High School trading stamp collectors is a stereophonic record player and now they're launching a project to collect a mountain of stamps for an electronic organ for the school gym. School Starts Organ Project

Holy Name High School students are launching an effort to obtain an electric organ for their gymnasium without money. It will not be done with magic but with—the sponsors hope—trading stamps!

The project is not really a new one at Holy Name, but the latest of a series of acquisition projects, says Sister Mary Dennis, who is in charge. Last week the girls of four of her Latin Clubs at the school traded in a stamp collection for a portable stereophonic record player.

Sister Mary Dennis, who, without losing any religiosity manages to revive memories of P. T. Barnum and Tex Rickard, said that a stamp company has promised to offer a special stamp collection to be printed in the Escanaba Daily Press and redeemable to Holy Name only at a specific supermarket.

Sister Mary Dennis said "Since we have been so successful with our stamp projects in the Latin Clubs that we are extending an invitation to all Holy Name students to collect stamps for an electric organ. We need an organ for the gym for many occasions, including graduation."

"We will work with a stamp company that gives us a special deal, but we will accept six different kinds of stamps and we can exchange the ones we don't use. In this project we work with points. The company assigns a certain number of points for the premium and we work for the points; a full book provides 700 points and I would expect the number needed for the organ to be over 350,000."

"We will conduct this project by classes, not homerooms, with a boy or girl assigned to collect count and report twice a week. We will collect through March and April and into May if we do not reach our quota before then. We plan to have a Stamp Stamp before the prom with admission in stamps and the class with the highest points will be honored at a dance.

Class project leaders are Paul-ette Vanlerberghe, freshmen; Mary Deloria, sophomores; Marilyn Kobasic, juniors, and Mary Valind, seniors.

Detroit Olympic Stadium Pushed In Legislature

Olympic Committee at its meeting scheduled in Nairobi in October 1963, of the acceptance of the invitation of the City of Detroit to act as host city for the 1968 Olympic games."

Sen. Kent Lundgren, R-Menominee, citing the Upper Peninsula as "the first place of sik jumping in America," proposed a resolution creating a joint legislative committee to cooperate with the Detroit Olympic Committee and investigate the Upper Peninsula for likely winter Olympic sites.

Two-Year Registration
Senate Republicans discussed congressional reapportionment bills in closed caucus, then the upper chamber considered 24 bills, passing five on to the House and four to the governor for final approval.

The reapportionment discussion was termed "exploratory" by Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, who said Republicans would meet again next week to consider the same subject.

Thayer said the reapportionment bill under scrutiny was a judiciary committee bill sponsored by Farrell Roberts, R-Pontiac. It would eliminate one Upper Peninsula seat, divide Oakland County in two and make a separate district out of Macomb County.

The caucus also considered a House reapportionment bill which is intended to serve as a so-called "Vehicle" bill in case the proposed state Constitution loses in the April 1 election.

Some 34 Michigan cities would have to stop fluoridating their public water supplies if a bill calling for referendums on the issue is passed, fluoridation supporters told a House committee.

And Detroit would have to hold up plans to begin fluoridation of its supply, scheduled to begin in the Spring after being approved by the city's Common Council last year.

Reapportionment Studied

These were among points raised by spokesmen for the Michigan Dental Association and other groups advocating fluoridation in a hearing before the Committee on Towns and Counties.

House action included debate and eventual passage of a bill to require two-year registrations for all voters in the state, amending the present law under which certain cities, such as Detroit and Flint, operate under a four-year option.

The bill passed 57-44 on a party-line vote after debate in which Democrats contended that "some people only want to vote in presidential elections" and shouldn't be required to register every two years.

Democrats admitted, under pressure by Republicans, that their concern was whether the change would cut into the accustomed heavily Democratic voting patterns in Detroit and other cities.

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, a sponsor of the bill, said it is designed to eliminate opportunity for voting fraud and would be in the interests of "uniformity" of voting laws.

Dog Ordinance Is Under Study

Escanaba's city dog ordinance was referred to City Attorney John G. Erickson by the Council last night with a request that he consider it in the light of cooperation with the county in dog control and recommend necessary changes.

The Council's attention was directed to the subject by Councilman George Rusch, who said that the city dog ordinance provides that the city maintain a dog pound in which stray animals will be kept for a period of three days.

Councilman Rusch directed attention to a recent case in which a dog owned by Ted Fordney of Escanaba was picked up by police. The dog had no license on its collar. The animal was turned over to Hector Larson, county dog warden, and was destroyed. The city ordinance has not been adhered to, Rusch charged.

City Manager George Harvey said the state law does not require that dogs be kept for three days, and that the city at one time did have a dog pound near the gas plant, which so annoyed residents of the area that the pound was discontinued.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe said the dog question was to be discussed by the Delta County Board of Supervisors today.

In other business the Council approved the low bid of Bero Motors to supply the city with either a Studebaker Lark or Rambler American for $950 plus trade in. The bids were the lowest of five received. The car is to be used by the city assessor and it is the first time the city has opened the way to bids on the compact cars.

Commentator Clobbered

The committee in charge of the Upper Peninsula inaugural for Governor Romney was delighted when both Detroit newspapers and the wire services sent staff writers to report the ceremonies.

Seldom do U.P. news events get such attention from the mass media. The aftermath has not all been happy, however. Jack Mann of the Free Press wrote a friendly prelude to the affair, a delightful feature on Tommy Quinn's preparations for the Governor's sleighride to the inaugural, and then a philosophical summation.

It was this postlude which started the shooting. It was titled "Romney Will Find No Easy Formula To Help the U.P." Mann wrote: "Governor Romney's visitation was a real nice clambake. Its theme: 'Pulling Michigan Together,' is a real nice idea. Making it work is going to be harder than saying it." Mann went on to say that except for politics, the U.P. is more Wisconsin and Chicago oriented than toward the Lower Peninsula and Detroit. He said that Escanaba was relatively prosperous and not typical of the U.P., but added that a quarter of Escanaba wage earners get along on $3,000 or less and that all the fees for all the functions of the inaugural added up to nearly $20.

Maybe you can write as Mann did about Detroit for Detroiters, but you can't write about the U.P. that way, it seems. Mann wrote a U.P. friend: "Even Tommy Quinn is scolding me. Almost everyone seems to have missed my point. My purpose was to illustrate that there are very real, specific problems in the U.P. and that they cannot be solved by any amount of generalities, platitudes about 'rowing together'—or even handshakes.

"Pragmatically the purpose was served, insofar as it aroused considerable awareness of the U.P., if not its problems. And awareness comes somewhere around the beginning of wisdom. The irate mail came more from the Lower Peninsula; from people who dearly love the U.P.; almost enough to live there."

Editor Jack Rice of the Houghton Mining Gazette pitched a big snowball from the top of Mont Ripley aimed at the back of Mann's neck. Rice said Mann suggests that after a loving father has given his all, it is time for his offspring to desert him, and reminds the Detroiters that Houghton County once paid half of Michigan's taxes.

When Mann suggests that "about the only Upper Peninsula people who get to Lansing are the state legislators, because they're paid to get there," Rice retorts: "Houghton County had a population of 88,000 in 1910 and now has but 35,000. All these people did not die from a plague. Most of them moved to Detroit and they, plus their relatives and friends, make consistent visits to the parents and others who remain here."

It is clear that Mann does not know the Upper Peninsula well, having visited only one of its cities. Let us hope that he comes back for more inspection and information. He has been nominated for a push off the wrong end of the ski slide because he tried to be insensitive and suggestive, and this is the function of good newsmen. If he had been simply superficial and complimentary, as so many hack writers are, he would have served no purpose of aid to the Upper Peninsula except to nourish its vanity, and perhaps its illusion.

His comments must by now have impressed him with the intense loyalty that Upper Peninsulans have for their homeland. A Detroit woman who formerly lived in the Copper Country wrote the Free Press "If these people in the back country can get along on $3,000 or less—what's so wrong with that? At least they aren't sponging on the state for hand-outs like they do here in the Detroit area. The United States bends backward trying to promote better understanding in foreign countries. Why can't we apply the same procedure on a state level, educating the people of the Lower Peninsula that the U.P. is not only a vacation paradise and a place to escape the city, but a community eager to accommodate industry, fight for economic survival and show its great potential in meeting needs?"

"For the first time a Governor has agreed to open his ears to the needs of these people and his efforts are criticized."

Not really. Mann is not anti-Romney. He was suggesting that he has great problems. He quoted a man at the Governor's reception who said "This area (the U.P.) has everything. All it needs is money." To which Mann quipped: "So there's a suggestion: Just send money." This quip is offensive to many Peninsulans, but investment in the Upper Peninsula is an acknowledged need and goal of this area. This is as reasonable an explanation of Mann's intent as the inference of a dolt.

Buttons And Bows

One of the editor's friends in the outland suggested: "You've got the people scared to go to Escanaba for fear they'll be tagged to support the Centennial, with all that button selling and such."

It is good to have it mentioned so it can be explained. The button sale for the Centennial is a "fun thing," explains Harold Cloutier, activities director for the Centennial. "No one," he says "is under any obligation to buy a button or anything else; it's all voluntary. It's Escanaba's Centennial and the city is supporting it in fine style and planning a lot of fun for all the area and hoping that many of its neighbors will join in the festivities.

"Please come now and later and all the time with no feeling that you must contribute to the Centennial by buying a shaving permit or suspender insurance, or anything else."

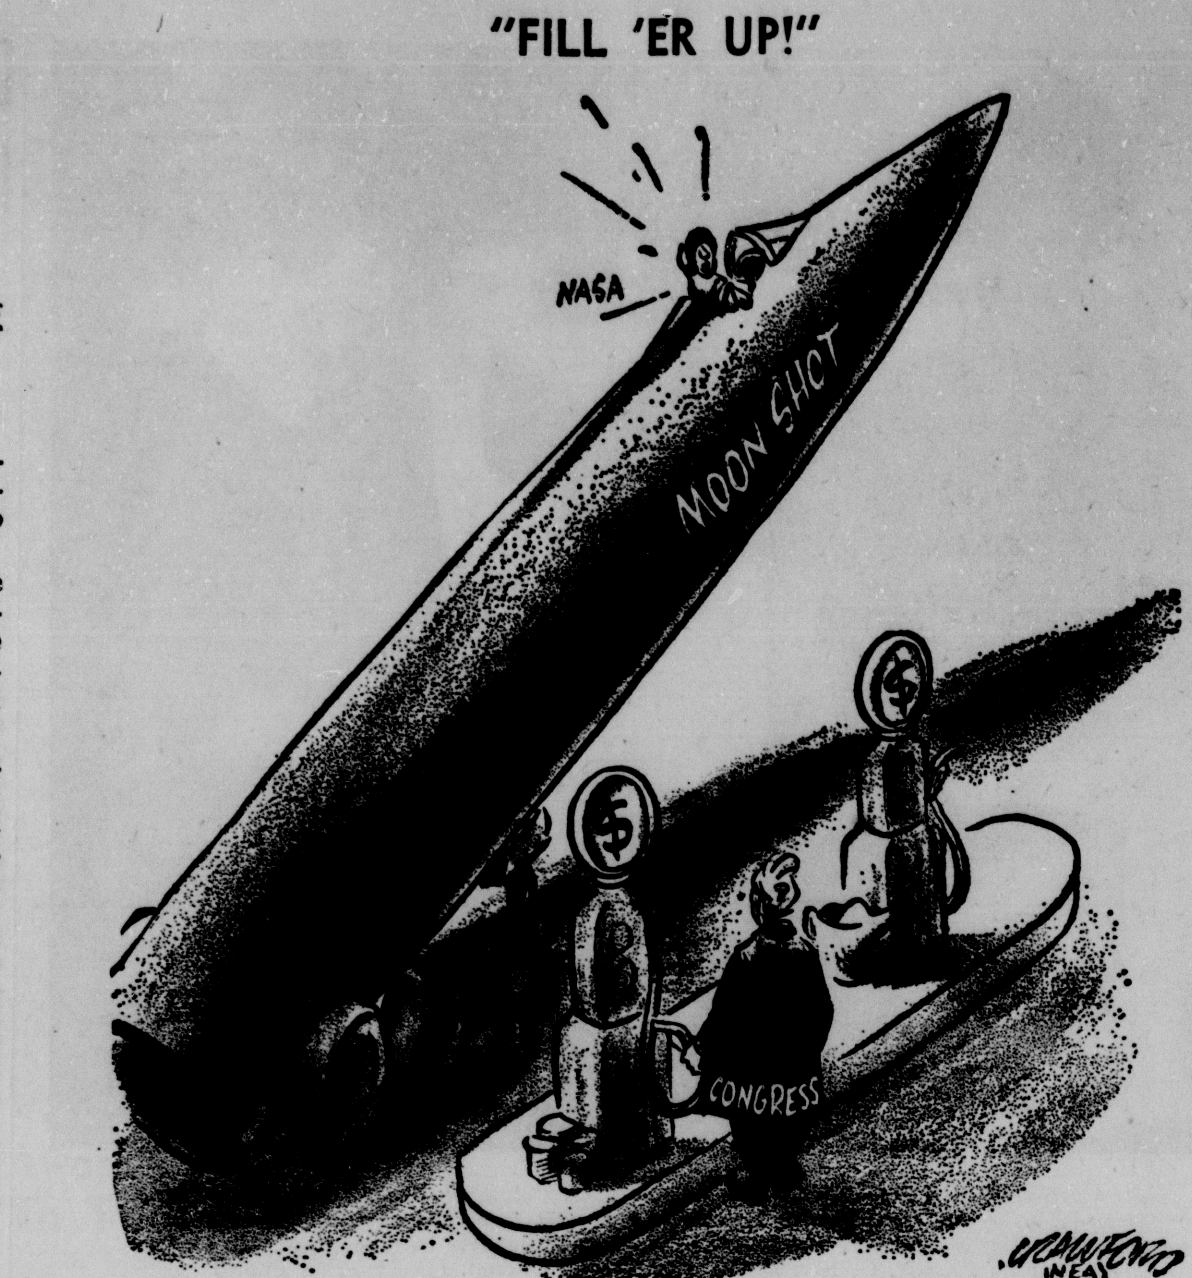

The Senior Citizens have been selling buttons like hotcakes and maybe they have approached a chin-whiskered visitor to buy a Brothers of the Brush badge in the belief that he was an Escanaban. Neighboring Menominee County also is observing its Centennial and some Deltons outside of Escanaba are raising beards too, whether out of sympathy, for protection in a hard winter, or to annoy their wives.

The buttons are very popular and have become as fashionable for wearing as noses. They're headed for the memento chest eventually to take their place with great grandfather's "Vote for Taft" and "Welcome Dewey Home" buttons.

Catastrophe Toll

The dictionary defines "catastrophe" as, among other things, a sudden calamity or disaster or misfortune. As used by statisticians, a catastrophe is any accident in which five or more people are killed.

Nearly 1,300 persons lost their lives in catastrophes in the United States last year, records the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Seven major catastrophes accounted for 325 of those deaths. Four were airplane crashes, two were windstorms and floods, one a coal mine explosion.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Spearheading the Republican drive to cut between $10 billion and $15 billion from President Kennedy's $108 billion budget for next year are Frank T. Bow of Canton, Ohio and other GOP members of the House Appropriations Committee.

Bow and his group will operate under Republican congressional leaders, but they will seek support for their budget-cutting from economy-minded Democrats. Republicans realize they can't succeed in this operation without Democratic votes, but they played this coalition crisscross game in cutting Truman administration budgets in the 80th Congress and they think they can do it again.

If the Republicans and their Democratic kindred spirits can make major cuts in next year's budget, they believe it will help justify the tax cut both parties want. The President's tax reform program is left out of the operation. Maurice Stans, President Eisenhower's last Budget Bureau director, has done the research job and compiled the figures which will be used as basic for the Republican-planned cuts. Stans will not take an active part in the operation; he'll stay in the background as an adviser.

During the past month or so he has been commuting from his Los Angeles home to Washington while making an item-by-item and line-by-line analysis of the Kennedy budget. Cutting the President's request for $108 billion in new obligations, authority by $10 billion or $15 billion would mean $98 billion to $93 billion figure. The resulting cut in spending for the year beginning next July 1 would be from $4 billion to $6 billion. This would make an administrative expenditure budget of from $93 to $95 billion in place of the President's $99 billion.

Possible economies suggested by Stans do not represent an across-the-board percentage cut. Reductions are considered possible for every major item in the budget, however, including even national defense and exploration of outer space.

While no figures are being given out now, it is believed that defense cuts will be sought at a little lower percentage figure than for most of the civilian agencies.

For smaller agencies, where cuts of less than $500,000 are considered possible, they are indicated as nominal and no great effort will be made to pare them down.

The space program definitely would be cut back to slow down the program and bring it under tighter, more efficient control. The expressed idea is to take the frenzy out of the present crash program.

The $40 billion estimated total cost of putting men on the moon would remain. Whether the mission would be accomplished by 1968 or maybe 1975 isn't considered important.

One of the points Republicans are emphasizing in planning these cuts is that they will not result in an austere budget.

Their idea is to stop budget growth for a few years and stabilize expenditures so the economy can catch up. If this isn't done, Republicans say the budget won't be balanced for years.

They point out that Eisenhower submitted an $81 billion new obligation authority budget for fiscal 1962. Kennedy's $108 billion budget for 1964 is a 34 per cent increase in two years.

"What we need," says one Republican, "is an adding machine on the President's desk so he can keep track of the cost of all the new programs he is asking for."

The Republicans want to stop nonemergency public works and put a moratorium on new projects not essential to security. Government construction — $7 billion in 1962 — is estimated at $9 billion for 1964 under the Kennedy budget.

Government civilian employment would be cut back by the GOP economy drive, but it is said this will not endanger national security or public welfare. The idea is to cut the planned 500,000 increase of government personnel by June 30, 1964.

Edson is a 34 per cent increase in two years.

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Spearheading the Republican drive to cut between $10 billion and $15 billion from President Kennedy's $108 billion budget for next year are Frank T. Bow of Canton, Ohio and other GOP members of the House Appropriations Committee.

Bow and his group will operate under Republican congressional leaders, but they will seek support for their budget-cutting from economy-minded Democrats. Republicans realize they can't succeed in this operation without Democratic votes, but they played this coalition crisscross game in cutting Truman administration budgets in the 80th Congress and they think they can do it again.

If the Republicans and their Democratic kindred spirits can make major cuts in next year's budget, they believe it will help justify the tax cut both parties want. The President's tax reform program is left out of the operation. Maurice Stans, President Eisenhower's last Budget Bureau director, has done the research job and compiled the figures which will be used as basic for the Republican-planned cuts. Stans will not take an active part in the operation; he'll stay in the background as an adviser.

During the past month or so he has been commuting from his Los Angeles home to Washington while making an item-by-item and line-by-line analysis of the Kennedy budget. Cutting the President's request for $108 billion in new obligations, authority by $10 billion or $15 billion would mean $98 billion to $93 billion figure. The resulting cut in spending for the year beginning next July 1 would be from $4 billion to $6 billion. This would make an administrative expenditure budget of from $93 to $95 billion in place of the President's $99 billion.

Possible economies suggested by Stans do not represent an across-the-board percentage cut. Reductions are considered possible for every major item in the budget, however, including even national defense and exploration of outer space.

While no figures are being given out now, it is believed that defense cuts will be sought at a little lower percentage figure than for most of the civilian agencies.

For smaller agencies, where cuts of less than $500,000 are considered possible, they are indicated as nominal and no great effort will be made to pare them down.

The space program definitely would be cut back to slow down the program and bring it under tighter, more efficient control. The expressed idea is to take the frenzy out of the present crash program.

The $40 billion estimated total cost of putting men on the moon would remain. Whether the mission would be accomplished by 1968 or maybe 1975 isn't considered important.

One of the points Republicans are emphasizing in planning these cuts is that they will not result in an austere budget.

Their idea is to stop budget growth for a few years and stabilize expenditures so the economy can catch up. If this isn't done, Republicans say the budget won't be balanced for years.

They point out that Eisenhower submitted an $81 billion new obligation authority budget for fiscal 1962. Kennedy's $108 billion budget for 1964 is a 34 per cent increase in two years.

"What we need," says one Republican, "is an adding machine on the President's desk so he can keep track of the cost of all the new programs he is asking for."

The Republicans want to stop nonemergency public works and put a moratorium on new projects not essential to security. Government construction — $7 billion in 1962 — is estimated at $9 billion for 1964 under the Kennedy budget.

Government civilian employment would be cut back by the GOP economy drive, but it is said this will not endanger national security or public welfare. The idea is to cut the planned 500,000 increase of government personnel by June 30, 1964.

Edson is a 34 per cent increase in two years.

GLADSTONE Marble Arms Uptn In '63 Forecast By B&G

Marble Arms Sporting Goods Division of Bell & Gossett Co. of Gladstone should turn the profit corner this year, says the annual report of B&G to stockholders over the signatures of R. Edwin Moore, chairman of the board, and W. A. Boone, president.

The annual statement says "Marble at Gladstone was still off a bit in the Sporting Goods Division but in 1963 this division should turn the corner. The Motor Division (Marble Electric) improved its profit in the face of continually reduced prices and with plans for better machine tools and increased working space, should show up nicely in 1963."

B&G reported a record year in sales and earnings in 1962, in which the company operated recently acquired Stover Co. of Freeport, Ill., and sold its Chemical Division.

Sales rose to an all time high of $40.9 million, which was $3.4 million more than in 1961. Hydro-Flo, Marlow Pump and Reznor Divisions of Bell & Gossett had outstanding years.

The company also set a new record in total earnings but not in per share earnings. Net earnings were $2.3 million compared with $2.1 million, an increase of $167,881. Earnings were $1.12 a share compared with $1.05 last year.

Major additions at the company's Morton Grove, Ill., headquarters were new factory office and engineering facilities. B&G had 4,410 shareholders and 1,822 employees, up from 1,697 workers last year.

B&G has plants at Gladstone, Morton Grove, Midland Park, N. J.; Longview, Tex.; Mercer, Pa.; Boulder and Broomfield, Colo., and Freeport, Ill.

Two persons were ticketed by State Police following an accident at 6 p. m. Thursday on U. S. 2-41, just east of the Wilson intersection.

Michael B. Kaufman, 18, of 1306 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, driver of one of the cars was ticketed for excessive speed for conditions, and Theodore J. Schneider, 58, of Iron Mountain was issued a summons for no valid operator's license.

According to police, both cars were traveling west when Schneider began to make a left-hand turn. About this same time, officers said, Kaufman began to overtake Schneider's vehicle for passing, but when Schneider began to turn he pulled back into his own lane. In doing so he struck the rear of the Schneider car. No one was injured. There were six passengers in Kaufman's vehicle.

Ann Landers Get Lawyer Fast

Dear Ann Landers: My spinster sister made a death-bed promise to mama that she would never be put in a nursing home. Without asking me, my sister said I would take her to live with me. That was six years ago when mama was 83. Today she is almost 90.

Sister's promise was a safe one because no nursing home would take our mother. She belongs in a mental institution. Father left her a substantial inheritance from which she has been drawing interest for 23 years. She has not spent one dime of her own money since father died. She is saving it "for her old age."

My husband and I are going broke keeping nurses in our home around the clock. Mama can't be left alone for a minute and I haven't the strength to be with her more than eight hours a day. Even with nurses on duty she has set fire to the mattress twice.

Is this fair when mama has money of her own? She keeps saying she's going to leave all her money to a horse she sees on TV. It would not surprise me if she did. Please advise.—MARY

Dear Mary: You need a lawyer and I hope you get one fast. It is not fair for you and your husband to go broke caring for your mother when she has an income of her own.

People who put money away for a rainy day sometimes have to be told it's raining.

Dear Ann Landers: I was a booze-fighter when I met Wilma—and the booze was winning. I had lost three good jobs because of my drinking. Wilma helped me off the juice and onto the wagon. I was bone-dry for 17 months—then Friday night it happened.

The office manager's wife had a baby girl after four boys. He was out of his mind with joy. He ordered up three bottles of Scotch and invited everyone in the office to celebrate with him.

I couldn't refuse to have just one—sort of a toast to the little princess.

You can guess the rest. I blew a dinner date with Wilma, in fact. I didn't even remember we had a date until 2:00 A.M. Then I telephoned her. She slammed the receiver on my ear and took the phone off the hook.

Today I got my ring back by special messenger. Please help me.—SAD AND SORRY

Dear Sad: When will guys like you learn that one drink is too many and one hundred isn't enough?

I can suggest only that you go to Wilma and beg her to forgive you. With a record of 17 months of sobriety she may give you another chance. (P.S. To Wilma. Please give the guy a break.)

Dear Ann Landers: We raised our niece right along with our own children. Clara's parents died when she was nine and we treated her as if she were our daughter.

Last May she married a young man who is pleasant but brainless. He has a steady job at a mill and makes good money.

My husband and I own a little grocery store. Every Friday without fail Clara and her husband come to the store and fill up two or three large shopping bags with whatever they need. Clara says "Thanks a lot" and they drive off.

Is it possible they don't know we have to pay for our merchandise? I just can't believe it, but since they're both pretty stupid they may be the answer.

My husband is fed up with this weekly ritual. Would it be petty if we came right out and told them how we feel? As I said she is like a daughter to us.—DWINDLING INVENTORY

Dear Dwindling: Tell these moochers they can have whatever they need at the price YOU paid for it. This is a much better deal than they can get elsewhere.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Forestry Course Popular In U.P.

A forestry short course on the management of small woodlands, introduced in December of 1960 has proven popular among Upper Peninsula woodland owners. The four-session course was designed by Michigan State University Extension Specialist Roy Skog of Marquette to meet requests from woodland owners who wanted more assistance than they could be provided through a one-meeting contact.

To date, 282 woodland owners from Alger, Delta, Menominee, Dickinson, Luce, Schoolcraft, Houghton, Baraga and Chippewa counties have attended these short courses in their own localities. Average attendance per class has been over 30.

Of the total commercial forest lands in the Upper Peninsula, small woodland owners own about three million acres, or one-third. Individual holdings range up to 5,000 acres. People owning small woodlands include farmers, businessmen and professional people, wage earners, timber operators, retired people and others. As a group, farmers own the most acreage, totaling about 750,000 acres. Enrollment in the new short course has included a mixture of the above landowners.

Classes normally met once a week for four weeks during the winter months. These are followed by field trips in the summer, when good timber cutting practices are viewed.

The first session of the short course deals with fundamentals underlying woodland management such as the shade tolerance of trees, their soil requirements, and how trees grow in natural communities or forest types. Six broad forest types commonly found in the Upper Peninsula are described. These are, the northern hardwood, swamp conifer, upland spruce-balsam fir, aspen (popple), pine and swamp hardwood.

The second class meeting covers timber harvest and timber stand improvement practices. The clear-cutting, seed tree, shelterwood, and selection methods of harvesting and reproducing forest stands are discussed and evaluated. Thinning, pruning, and the removal of undesirable trees and other improvement practices that are applied during the developmental stage of a stand are also explained.

The third session deals primarily with the application of improvement practices and harvest methods to the forest types found in the Upper Peninsula, and the fourth session is on Christmas tree management. Emphasis here is put on managing young natural balsam-fir stands for the production of high-quality trees.

A second short course, dealing entirely with the management of forest tree plantations for timber and Christmas trees, has been developed and was taught in Menominee County this winter for the first time. Forty-two were enrolled.

The courses are being offered through the local county Extension offices of Michigan State University Cooperative Extension program.

Cushman To Head Development Fund For Fair Lane

DEARBORN—Edward L. Cushman, vice-president of American Motors Corp. has been named general chairman of the Committee for Development of Fair Lane for the University of Michigan Dearborn Campus.

The committee will seek to raise $250,000 to modernize and refurbish Fair Lane and the surrounding grounds, home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford.

The appointment of Cushman was made by Dr. William E. Stirling, Michigan vice-president and director of the Dearborn Campus.

Fair Lane and 210 acres of land were given to the University in 1956 by the Ford Motor Co. Accompanying the gift was $650,000 from the Ford Motor Co. Fund to erect the Dearborn Campus classrooms, laboratories and offices.

Cushman said the committee would attempt to raise the funds by July 30, 1963, the 100th anniversary of the birth of Henry Ford.

Cushman said Fair Lane would be used for major conferences among national thought-leaders; meetings of industrial, business, labor, civic and cultural groups and for lectures, concerts and seminars for the students and faculty of the Dearborn Campus.

Next Wednesday Big Day On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Television's red letter day of the week will be Wednesday. Both NBC and ABC will present specials — Bob Hope and friends on one network, and a documentary about Hollywood's legendary stars on the other.

Hope's monthly show (NBC, 8-10 p.m. EST) has enlisted the guest-star services of Frank Sinatra, Robert Goulet and Brenda Lee. Brenda Lee will be featured in the grandstand show at the Upper Peninsula State Fair on the closing night of the 1963 fair, Sunday, Aug. 18 in Escanaba with The Casuals. Fair Manager Ray LaPorte is seeking George Gobel as another fair headline, but his contract hasn't been confirmed. "Hollywood: The Great Stars" (ABC, 10-11) is an unusually bright inspection of the big and glamorous ones, in old film clips, newsreels and still photographs. Tonight there is another Leonard Bernstein concert for young people (CBS, 7:30-8:30). This one concentrates on Central and South American symphony music. Later this evening there is "The Jack Paar Show" (NBC, 10-11) with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, singer Helen O'Connell and Dr. John C. Lilly, a neurosurgeon doing research on dolphins, in an unusual mixture of guests.

CBS has an hour's special Sunday afternoon on "Exhibition," a study of 14 contemporary American artists (4-5). "Show of the Week" (NBC, 10-11) will be "Comedian Backstage," a documentary type show about Shelley Berman and his workaday life.

The second part of the "CBS Reports" study of the U.S. Supreme Court comes up Wednesday evening (7:30-8:30).

"California — the Most," is an NBC news special Thursday night (7:30-8:30) studying the Pacific Coast state, with Edwin Newman doing the narration.

8:30—Hermansville vs. Powers-Spalding

POWERS — SPALDING — The stage was set for a renewal of a long-time neighborhood basketball rivalry in the championship game of the district Class D tournament when Hermansville and Powers-Spalding captured semifinal victories here Thursday night.

The old foes will tangle Saturday night at 8:30 with the winner earning a ticket to the regionals at Northern Michigan College in Marquette next week.

Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins, champion of the Big Eight Conference, needed a pair of free throws by 5-8 sophomore Roger LaCourse in the final minute of action to snatch a 60-58 victory from Carney, the team that finished second in the Big Eight race.

Hermansville opened with a 16-13 lead but Coach Bob Kuntze's Wolves clawed their way in front, 32-29, at the half. Hermansville bolted into a 50-43 advantage in the third period and held on as Carney cut the gap through the fourth. The score was tied 58-58 when LaCourse, who had scored only one point previously, stepped to the foul line with a 1-and-1 with 40 seconds remaining. He dropped both the shots through the nets and Carney failed to connect on a couple of desperate last-second field goal attempts.

The Redskins threw a potent one-two punch at Carney in the persons of Bob Calario and Ron Povolo who combined for 43 points. Ken Blahnik led Carney's balanced attack with 14.

Coach Gordy LeDuc's host Tigers had to fight off two late Vulcan threats before winning 52-44.

Both teams hits on 21 field goals but Hermansville converted 18 of 24 free throws to 16 of 25.

Taking complete control of the boards, Gladstone roared to a 20-point lead midway in the fourth quarter and Wood called on his reserves who finished out the for Carney. Carney had a 37 to 25 edge in rebounds. The Tigers pulled away quickly and led 14-6 at the end of the first period but Vulcan cut its deficit to 37-33 entering the final quarter.

Nelson topped three Tigers in double figures with 15 points while Vulcan's Jim Mastie took individual scoring honors with 18.

Can Clay Write Or Can He Fight?

By JIM BECKER
NEW YORK (AP)—Can Cassius fight like he can write?

That was a burning question today in Greenwich Village, still rocking from the invasion of Cassius Marcellus Clay, the self-proclaimed next heavyweight champion of the world.

The decision is still out on the poetry reading contest in a Village coffee house, where Clay was pitted against a group of beatnik poets running heavy to beards and drooping black stockings.

It appeared to boil down to whether as a fighter Clay is a pretty good poet, or whether as a poet he is a pretty good fighter.

Clay invaded a coffee house deep in the wilds of the Village, to read an ode or two and call attention to his 10-round fight next Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden against Doug Jones.

"This boy likes to mix."

"He will go in six," quoth Cassius, as a warmup.

He made the scene—a dungeon where there are at least 14

guitars for every person—at lunch time, just as a collection of beats, sports writers and other social outcasts were devouring a repast of cole slaw and chicken wings off paper plates.

A well-shaped young lady with eyes the color of fragile china and a matted mess of greasy brown hair read a poem dedicated to Cassius.

He responded by reading his poem, dedicated to Cassius.

Being a boy with an eye to the future, he wound up this way:

"Marcellus vanquished Carthage, Cassius laid Julius Caesar low."

"And Clay will flatten Douglas Jones with a mighty, measured blow."

"So when the gong rings and the referee sings out 'The Winner'."

"Sonny Liston will fall."

"And Cassius Marcellus Clay will be the noblest Roman of them all."

When he finished, there were few dry eyes in the house. It was pretty smoky in there.

Crowns, Berths At State Tonight

By The Associated Press
Conference basketball championships and NCAA tournament berths go up for grabs on neutral courts tonight in one-game play-offs involving the leaders in the Ivy League and Ohio Valley Conference while still a third title—the Big Six—could be decided.

Princeton and Yale, locked for the Ivy lead with 11-3 records and the regular season completed, meet in the neutral Fordham gym in New York. Morehead and Tennessee Tech finished the Ohio Valley Conference schedule with identical 8-4 records and meet at Bowling Green, Ky.

The winner in each game goes into NCAA first round tourney play, the Ivy champ against St. Joseph's, Pa., and the Ohio Valley boss against Chicago Loyola.

The other one, the Big Six, is much more complicated. It could be simple if Stanford wins at UCLA. That would settle it, The Indians lead with a 7-3 record with two games to go, the Bruins tonight and Southern Cal Saturday.

UCLA, 5-5 with two to go, still has a chance, however. The Bruins also have two games, closing against California Saturday. Should UCLA win its two at home and Stanford lose its two road games the race ends in a tie with a playoff scheduled Tuesday at Santa Monica.

The three other NCAA spots will be decided Saturday. They go to the winners in the Big Ten, the Big Eight and the WCAC.

Two NCAA entrants and a couple of NIT teams warmed up for tourney action with Thursday victories. NCAA-bound New York University beat St. John's of New York 56-47 and Fordham, heading for the NIT, edged Manhattan 66-61 in a Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

Yankee Conference champion Connecticut, another NCAA entrant, scored a 92-74 rout at Syracuse while NIT-bound Providence scored its 12th straight victory in an 80-57 rout of Brown.

Pistons Miss Golden Chance

By The Associated Press
The Detroit Pistons and the San Francisco Warriors, in a battle for the last spot open in the National Basketball Association playoffs, met tonight at Fort Wayne, Ind. And maybe someone will show up with a pair of boxing gloves.

Twice this season the Pistons and Warriors have engaged in fistfights, the latest Tuesday night in New York. It could happen again.

The Pistons had a chance Thursday night to take a 2-game lead over the Warriors, but lost to the Boston Celtics 115-104. The Pistons now lead San Francisco by one game, but have lost as many games as the Warriors, 45, making tonight's clash vital.

Sunday Closing Urged, Opposed At Board Meeting

About 40 persons attended the Delta County Board of Supervisors meeting in the County Building this morning to discuss the Sunday Closing Law which takes effect March 28.

Discussion on the "Blue Law" consumed most of the morning session of the board and action was deferred until this afternoon.

Rev. Paul Penno of the Seventh Day Adventist Church said he felt the closing law had religious connotations which the civil law had no right to invade. "I am greatly concerned for the health and welfare of the public, which I feel the proposed law will do nothing to help. I myself do not believe in any person working seven days a week, but I believe that this choice should be up to the individual," he said.

H. George Nelson, operator of Nelson's Cash Store in North Escanaba, favored the law in Delta County. "I am pleading as a small businessman for adoption of the law in Delta County. Today there are too many small business people closing their doors because of competition from the larger chain stores."

Space Limitation
"These large independent stores don't need the Sunday business. I myself work from 12 to 13 hours each day; I have to in order to make a living. I've seen the same thing happen in the larger cities, Rockford, Ill., where I previously lived is a good example. I returned there some time ago, after living in Escanaba for about five years, and found that most of my friends who were small grocers had gone out of business because they were forced to close their doors by the chain stores," said Nelson.

Elmer Dagenais, co-partner of the Super-Valu, said he was strongly opposed to the law. Dagenais said that he and his partner, Mel Manks, had originally opened their store based on a 7-day week. "The Sunday Closing Law would mean we would have to lay off employables used on Sunday," said Dagenais.

"The way I see it, we're being discriminated against because according to the law the only four business places in Delta County it would affect is our store, Bay Super-Valu in Gladstone, Piggly-Wiggly and Shopper's Town. These stores come under the law only because they occupy 4,000 or more square feet of selling space."

Called Unfair
Bob Dagenais, operator of Piggly-Wiggly, who also spoke against the law, pointed out that under the law any business place with less than 4,000 square feet of selling space could remain open on Sunday. "This hardly seems fair when you consider there is another super market with just under the 4,000 foot limit and this means they can stay open and sell all they want."

Chairman Wheaton Strom pointed out that under the law any business with 4,000 square or more feet of selling space would be required to close, but would be exempt if there were not more than three persons employed. Businesses with under the 4,000 foot limit may operate with unlimited employees.

Strom said he felt the law was poorly written in this respect because interpretation could mean that only three persons may be used during the Sunday operation, or that no more than three are employed during the seven day period.

Union For Law
Don Foley, representing the Retail Clerks Union of the National Food Store and Montgomery Ward, said his clients favored the law. He said a survey showed store owners in general favored the bill. "There seems," he said to be a misunderstanding of the one-day closing law. It means that business places coming under the closing would be required to be closed either Saturday or Sunday, but the choice is up to the individual. Basically those who promoted and passed the law had the best interests of the public in mind."

Gordon Bean, proprietor of Shopper's Town in Escanaba, who opposes the law, said that he felt the bill was proposed by chain store operators who looked on the smaller stores as a thorn in their side.

"The bill itself," Bean said, "really takes a funny turn when you read it. It says we must close either on Saturday or Sunday, but there are loopholes as to the number of employees we may have in order to stay open. It also provides that all stores with the exception of the four previously mentioned, may stay open. I feel that we, Bay Super-Valu, Piggly-Wiggly, Shopper's Town and Super-Valu, should be given the same choice."

Atty. Arthur Neiman of Escanaba, representing a number of local interests, appeared in favor of the bill.

Chains To Open

Neiman said he represented 17 stores and 43 employees in the Gladstone area, plus 32 stores and 228 employees in Escanaba, and that all favor the closing law.

"I'm really surprised that there are so many people against this bill, when it passed overwhelmingly in the legislature," said Neiman. "It has been stated that because of interpretation the law would be hard to enforce, but there isn't a law written that doesn't hurt someone."

"The tourist business has been cited as an example of what might be harmed by the bill. This isn't necessarily true. People coming here from downstate will be governed by the same laws as we and will expect no other treatment."

Neiman told the supervisors that if the Sunday Closing Law is not passed in Delta County all the chain stores would be forced to stay open on Sunday in order to maintain their competitive position. "I know for a fact that the large chain stores I represent will all be open on Sunday if the law does not go into effect," said Neiman.

Bobcat Trapped In Pulp Yard Of Mead Corporation

A bobcat that was so bold it showed itself to pulp yard workers at the Escanaba Division, Mead Corp. at Groos, came to repent it.

Conservation Officers John Seppi of Chatham and Hugh Fisher of Escanaba set traps for the animal on Monday and it was caught in one of the traps Tuesday afternoon and killed. It weighed about 15 pounds. Fisher estimated and was a female. He said that it's likely a second cat still is in the yard and the traps remain set.

The bobcat was feeding in the pulp yard on mice and cotton-tail rabbits there and had been seen about the yard for more than a week in the daytime.

Trooper James Schram of Gladstone, left, applies mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration to Andy Berlinski, 17, Kingsford High School basketball player who was injured in a game at the Dickinson County Armory earlier this week. The first aid applied by Schram, stationed at the Iron Mountain State Police Post, was credited with saving Berlinski's life. The player was injured when he somersaulted backwards over a teammate, landing on the gym floor on the back of his head. He suffered a concussion and a dislocation of the neck which seriously impaired his breathing. Berlinski was taken by ambulance to Dickinson County Memorial Hospital where his condition is reported as satisfactory. Assisting Schram, at the top of the picture, is Art Fiorazzo of the Kingsford High School faculty. (Iron Mountain News Photo)

Note Centennial Progress Here

Substantial progress is being made in preparation for Escanaba's big Centennial Week program which is expected to attract thousands to the city, City Manager George E. Harvey told the City Council last night. Harvey is also a member of the Centennial executive committee.

Aims and objectives of the Centennial were reviewed by Harvey, who pointed out that while most of the Centennial projects are designed to make money to pay their own way, some are not revenue producers — such as the big parade planned for Centennial Week. The parade will have to be financed with the profits to be received from other celebration projects.

The sale of the several Centennial buttons by Senior Citizens has so far brought in over $1,500, he reported. The purchase of beard growing permits or shaving permits, as the case may be, is in no way compulsory, Harvey pointed out.

A Centennial stamp project is now being arranged which will reach a climax with the selection of a host or hostess for the Centennial who will be awarded a substantial prize, probably an automobile.

Among the many events of the celebration will be programs for teenagers. The Escanaba Century Book, compiled with the assistance of a couple score Escanaba persons and edited by Clint Dunathan, will be off the presses about May 1 and will be sold for $2.50. In other business, the Council designated March 25-31 "Know Your Constitution Weeks" and urged citizens to inform themselves so they may vote wisely on Michigan proposed new constitution at the spring election.

Democrats Meet On Constitution Here Saturday

Michigan Democrats have scheduled the first of two Upper Peninsula conferences on the proposed state constitution to be voted April 1 at the Sherman Hotel on Saturday. The second conference will be at Baraga Sunday.

Miss Adelaide Hart, State Democratic Vice Chairman, will preside.

The Escanaba conference will be for delegates from Schoolcraft, Alger, Delta, Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa counties. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. and conclude at 3:30 p.m.

Speakers will include Menominee Prosecuting Attorney Russell Bradley, a Constitutional Convention delegate, as keynote. Panel leaders will be Carmine Della Quadre, professor of economics at Michigan Tech; Andrew Wisti, Houghton County Democratic chairman; F. Hubert Mather, Baraga County prosecutor, and Bradley.

Hiawatha School Reports Burglary

MANISTIQUE — Students in Hiawatha Township School were dismissed this morning to permit State Police investigation of a break-in last night.

The school was entered sometime between 8:30 p. m. Thursday and this morning. Entrance was made by breaking a window.

The four teachers' desks were ransacked and hot lunch money taken from two. The amount is under $50.

County Chess Finals On Saturday

The final match in the first annual Delta County Chess Tournament will be held in the Sherman Hotel Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1:30. The public is invited.

Gerald Carignan, Rte. 1, Gladstone, and Ray Richel, 547 N. 11th St., Gladstone, a junior at Northern Michigan College, earned their way to the finals in preliminary matches held last Saturday among a field of 18 senior contestants.

Among 14 junior division competitors, Richard Waak emerged on top with Robert Mayra as runner-up. Both are Escanaba High School students, Mayra a 14-year-old freshman and Waak a 16-year-old sophomore.

Carignan defeated his brother Norbert, also of Gladstone, in a semifinal round after they had played a two-and-one-half-hour game to a draw. Richel won his way to the finals with five wins and only one loss. Gerald Carignan also had only one loss.

John Cameron, of Escanaba, who captured third place, was the only player to defeat Richel.

Attractive chess trophies will be awarded to the senior division champion and runner-up following the completion of their match tomorrow.

State Office Bldg. Addition Asked By Romney

Governor Romney has recommended in his 1963-64 general fund capital outlay program $2.7 million for construction of new classroom buildings at Northern Michigan College at Marquette and Michigan Tech at Houghton.

Recommended was $1.4 million for a fine arts classroom building on the Marquette campus and $1.3 million for a mathematics and physics building at Houghton.

Also included among the Upper Peninsula projects is $150,000 to acquire land and complete plans for a new library on the Houghton campus.

Governor Romney has also recommended that $125,000 be appropriated for construction of a

Danforth 4-H Club Program Planned

The Mid-County 4-H Club of Danforth will hold its local Achievement Day program Sunday at 8 p. m. at the Flat Rock School. The public is invited.

A talent show and an exhibit of project work. Talent show winners will represent the club at the county Achievement Day to be held in Escanaba April 6. Lunch will be served.

Roof Kills Two

DEARBORN (AP) — Two Detroit-area men were killed Thursday when part of a motel roof collapsed, sending 26-pound concrete blocks hurtling down on them. Police said George Spencer, 64, of Roseville, and Edward Florence, 55, of Detroit, were measuring the stress capacity of the roof of the Avondale Motel, a 100-unit, two-story building under construction here.

Button Buying Is All In Fun

People of the area are invited to come to Escanaba this evening to watch the Kangaroo Court fun, said Harold Cloutier, managing director of the Escanaba Centennial Corp. The beard and bonnet program and entire Centennial program are a fun program and no individual is required to buy a button unless he wants to, said Cloutier.

The Centennial office has inquiries as to whether this is a compulsory program. "It is entirely up to the individual whether he wishes to buy a booster button, a shaving permit button, A Brothers of the Brush button or a Centennial Belle button," said Cloutier.

Centennial cops will be on the prowl tonight to fine those individuals who want to enter into the spirit of the Centennial, however, we want to emphasize that there is nothing compulsory about this, said Cloutier. The committee has explained that this is a voluntary program and that nobody will be embarrassed if he doesn't wish to buy a button.

"So, come down tonight and on other Friday nights and watch the fun," Cloutier encouraged those who do not wish to buy buttons.

Rebels Backed By Iraq And Nasser Regime

que called the September, 1961, coup that broke Syria away from the U.A.R. a "separatist disaster."

But there was no assurance that the rebel leaders aim for another complete union with Egypt. There were strong signs that the coup was engineered by the Arab "Baath" Socialist party, which masterminded the upheaval in Baghdad last month. The party believes in strong ties but not necessarily governmental union with Nasser's U.A.R. The trend in Iraq is toward a federation.

Outbreak Expected
The revolutionary command said it "extends a hand to Cairo, Baghdad and San'a," the Yemeni Capital, where a Nasser-backed revolutionary regime is in power. The same hand was extended to Algiers "and to all free people."

Observers in the Middle East had expected an outbreak in Syria since the Iraqi revolt. Four days ago Cairo Radio and Egypt's Middle East News Agency announced that Syrian army units on the Israeli frontier had mutinied and demanded that Syria reunite with Egypt. A few hours later official sources in Damascus labeled the report sheer fabrication.

Syria united with Egypt in March 1958 to form the United Arab Republic. The Egyptians took over the administration of the country and the country grew restive. In September 1961 an army officers' coup turned out the Egyptians and broke the union.

Since then Syria's chronic unrest has continued, and Nasser's influence has remained strong. Elections were held in December 1961, and right-wingers won a majority in Parliament. Three and a half months later the army revolted again, charging that the conservative politicians were annulling the land reforms and other gains the people made under the U.A.R.

Mrs. Frombach, 59, Former Resident Of Newberry Dies

Mrs. Owen (Mary) Frombach, 59, of Inkster, a former resident of Newberry, died at 4:10 a. m. today in the Tahquamenon General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Frombach was born Aug. 6, 1903, in Motley, Minn., and was married in Plummer, Minn., on Sept. 25, 1922. She lived in Newberry from 1933 to 1944 and then moved to Inkster.

Survivors include her husband, one daughter, Mrs. John (Margaret) Swales, Sault Ste. Marie; four grandchildren; a brother, Clyde Francisco and a sister, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, both of Newberry.

She was a member of the Beau-Jeu Funeral Home from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. on Sunday where services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Motley Minn.

Briefly Told

St. Anne's Holy Name Society will hold its 6th annual spaghetti feed in the basement of the church on March 31. The public is invited to attend. A nominal fee will be charged.

Traffic court summons have been issued by Escanaba police to Richard J. Beauchamp, 2128 25th Ave. S., disobeying traffic signal; Russell J. Hardwick, 309 N. 10th St., speeding; Solomon Zittner, K. I. Air Force Base, expired operator's license and expired license plates; Margaret C. Broman, Mounted Rte., speeding.

The schedule of planting has yet to be fixed but usually comes about the time when season opens the last Saturday of April. The condition of roads is a factor in the start of planting.

All ponds at the hatchery, one of three in the U. P., are full except one. The ice-covering on the pools broke away this week with warmer weather.

This makes it much nicer for the trout — even more so for the fellows who feed all these fish, Miller observes.

Inland Steel's Outlook Better

Inland Steel's output and earnings for 1963 should show some improvement over 1962, Joseph L. Block, chairman, predicted in the company's annual report.

The high level of taxes imposed by federal, state and local governments continues to be a matter of serious concern, the report said. The company's total tax payments for 1962 came to $53,344,000 or $2.99 a share, almost a million dollars more than net income.

The company said it welcomed the recognition by the Kennedy Administration that the burden of federal income taxes is excessive and is having a dampening effect on incentive and, therefore, on the growth of the economy.

"We hope," it said, "Congress will promptly enact legislation reducing both corporate and individual income taxes."

It added, "Such action, we believe, would stimulate consumer spending and business investment and generally advance the national interest by promoting a better rate of economic growth."

But such results would be dependent, it said, "on determined efforts to control the expenses of the federal government. It said the objective should be a balanced budget when unemployment is reduced and the nation's productive capacity is more fully utilized."

Net income for 1962 was $52,486,902 or $2.94 a share. In the previous year net income was $54,674,148 or $3.08 a share.
